MY SPACE

How many beds do I have?

16 including the polytunnel.

What light do I get?

The space is open, and gets full sun. Shadows appear from the back of my polytunnel and cast over to the right through the day.

Notes to self:

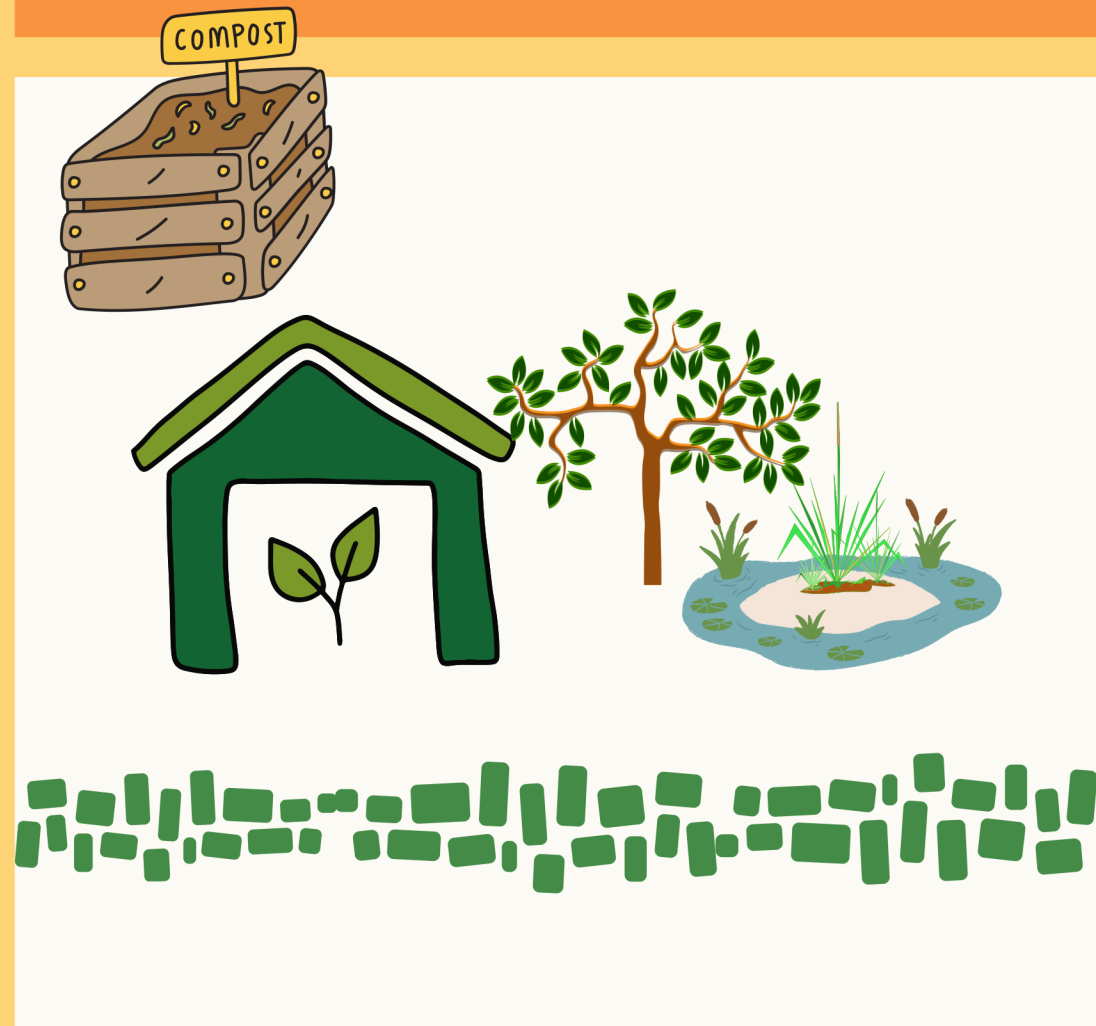

Keep my taller crops to the right of my smaller crops to avoid casting shadows over them.

TIPS AND NOTES

- Sow leafy greens little and often to keep your harvests going through the year
- Cover brassicas when planting with a good netting to keep off pests
- I'll be sowing most, if not all, of my seeds in my house or in my garden greenhouse
- Feed your crops as per the instructions with an organic fertiliser through the year!
- The empty space at the bottom of my plot will slowly be cultivated and used for sowings not mentioned here. Potentially Swiss chard, Beetroot, Potatoes, and Pak choi.

Sometimes things happen out of our control - the weather, a sudden pest attack, personal lives... This is okay.

Make sure to put yourself first, you can always resow!
